

Jennifer & Barry, part 6
July 17-18, 2004

Above: interior of LV home before framing

My brother, Kevin and I got to the building site early Saturday morning and started laying out the interior walls of the house. I reconfigured the interior of our LV Home with 2 bedrooms, 1 bathroom with a 2-person shower, and a multi-use room (kid's room, storage, ect). Being able to change the interior configuration of the LV Home to your personal needs is a big "plus" in Rocio's design. Kevin did most of the framing while I measured, cut and hauled lumber. We were halfway finished when Barry arrived with lunch. By the end of the day, we were almost finished with framing.

Sunday, Kevin and I finished framing while Barry added more soil around the outside of the foundation wall. We finished early enough for Kevin to go fishing in the National Park near our property.

Next weekend will be the last framing weekend....but also one of the hardest. We will be installing the faux wall panels which are HEAVY!!!

— Jennifer

Below: interior of LV home after framing

